

Reader's Digest

The 27 Best Home Organization Tools Under $30

Investing in organizational tools can go a long way

The majority of us have been nesting in a major way, ever since social distancing became the norm. And, what better way to put all that extra time to good use? "Like all of us who are in quarantine during to COVID-19, we are spending extra time indoors, and there is no better time to organize," points out Samantha Wenig, founder of Neat Spaces NY. While you can likely get a lot of organizing done on your own, investing in a few key organizational tools can really be a game-changer. The bonus? None of these items cost more than $35 and all of them can be delivered, contact-free, to your front door. As for what areas of the home to organize, Wenig suggests taking baby steps and letting your nesting instincts take it from there. "Start small with a desk drawer and lead up to big spaces such as a closet basement," she says. "You will have a neat space in no time!" You'll also want to know these 26 secrets professional organizers won't tell you for free.

Nite Ize key ring

$4.37

Shop Now

Are you constantly misplacing your keys? Do you hesitate to put them all on the same ring because it just takes way too long to remove them? This creative keyring is basically a locker for all of your keys, giving you easy access when you need to slip one off. The solid stainless steel key ring is equipped with five colorful plastic S-Biner MicroLocks that secure, hold, and identify your keys. The innovative MicroLocks hold up to two keys each and lock and unlock with a twist, to make attaching and detaching keys a breeze. Always misplacing things? These 9 solutions will help you never lose your car keys again.