15 Multitools Under $50

By Peter Reese

Wallet: Nite Ize Financial Tool RFID Blocking Wallet

Financial Tool RFID Blocking Wallet is a card and cash defender wrapped in a 10-in-1 multitool. What can you do? Slice into boxes, wrench a bolt, or pry nails from your wall before heading for a non-stop cruise through airport security. Bonus: Twin stainless steel plates stop bad guys from scanning your life. And it only costs you a few bucks. [$28; amazon.com]

Keychain: Nite Ize Doohickey 6x Key Tool

Store this multitool in your desk drawer or nearby for home repair. Among the most aggressive minis, big leverage on the wrenches and high pressure with the scraper give the stainless Doohickey 6x Key Tool its edge. The driver dominates slotted screw heads but leaves Phillips versions wanting. We dig the carabiner clip, which favors smaller, more patient hands. [$5; amazon.com]
